Manuscripts should be prepared in accordance to the following instructions.

Manuscripts
Manuscripts should be typed in English with double-line spacing and wide (2 cm) margins using A4 paper size Time font in 12 Size is preferable. Manuscripts should be as concise as possible without impairing the clear and precise presentation of the subject matter. Both form and contents of a paper should be carefully checked to exclude the need for corrections in proof.

The manuscript should start with a concise but informative title followed by the full name of authors, full addresses including fax and e-mail, abstract (100-200 words summarizing the significant coverage, findings and results, keywords (4-6), introduction, materials & method), results and discussion, conclusion, acknowledgement, if any and references. Print star (*) on the name of corresponding author. Number each section and sub-section in Arabic numerals. For more details see recent issue of the Journal.

Full papers of maximum 10-15 type-written pages will be published in six months. Short communications or Current Research Notes of maximum 2-4 type-written pages will be published rapidly, in particular if they do not contain any figures.

Units, Tables and Figures
Metric units should be used. Acceptable abbreviations are given in the Style Manual of the American Chemical Society. Tables should be made with tabs and not inserting the columns and lines. Number all Tables and Figures consecutively with Arabic numerals, and give each clear descriptive caption on separate sheet. Type/draw them on separate pages. Presentation of figures should be clear. Unclear & vague presentation is not acceptable.

Note: Printing if color figures will be charged depending on the color scheme employed.

Equations and Formulae
Mathematical equations should preferably be type written in MS-Word using Equation Editor. Numerators and denominators in equations should be clearly typed in separate lines. Avoid brackets to put them in a single line. This causes confusion. Ring formulæ, and other complex chemical matter, are difficult to typeset. Therefore, use any related software for equations containing such chemistry. Long reaction sequences should be designated as 'Schemes' and treated like figure, i.e. keep art-work separate from text, indicate in the margins an appropriate position, and supply a separate list of Scheme options. Where necessary, individual chemical formulæ can be identified with bold Arabic numbers set over to the right in parentheses.

Author’s Contribution
List all authors and mention their contribution in the article.

References
References are indicated in the text by consecutive Arabic numbers in square brackets [ ]. The full list should be collected and typed at the end of the paper in numerical order. Listed references should be complete in all details (excluding article titles) in the Journals. Author's initials should come before name. Journal title abbreviations should conform to the standard style, Examples: Please follow these strictly. For abbreviations use web of science abbreviation list (https://images.webofknowledge.com/WOK46/help/WOS/I_abrvjt.html).

Note: Authors are encouraged to use bibliographic tools like Endnote etc.

Footnotes
Use of footnotes is not encouraged. A footnote may include the designation of a corresponding author, current address (if different from that shown in affiliation). Information concerning to grant support of research or the assistance of the colleagues should appear in a separate acknowledgment section at the end of paper.
Footnotes should be indicated in the text by the following symbols: * (asterisk or star), + (dagger), ++ (double mark), $ (section mark) and # (number sign). Type each footnote at the bottom of the typescript page on which its text call-out appears. Footnotes within the tables should be indicated by the same symbols listed above. Re-initialize symbol sequence within tables. Type footnotes to table directly beneath the table.

Proofs
Authors will receive page proofs by E-mail for correction, which must be returned to the typesetter within a week of receipt. Please ensure that full address, plus phone, fax and e-mail numbers, where available, are given on the first page of the typescript, so that proofs are not delayed in the post. Author's alterations in excess of 10% of the original composition cost will be charged to authors. Authors can also download their full papers from website www.ceacsu.edu.pk, no hard copies will be send to authors.

Reprints
Reprints are usually not provided but a copy of issue will be provided at Rs. 150/= each. However reprint can be ordered if request is made with proof and charges are paid for these.

Copyright
Submission of a manuscript to the Journal will be taken to imply that:

- The work is original and has not been previously published (except in the form of an abstract or a part of a published lecture, review or thesis).
- It is not being considered for publication elsewhere, and
- If accepted for publication, it will be published elsewhere in the same form, in any language, without the consent of Editor or Publisher. It is a condition of acceptance by the Editor or a typescript for publication that the publishers acquire automatically the copyright in the typescript throughout the world.
